

Dansk Transplantationsselskabs Årsmøde 22 November 2007 – Auditorium 2, Rigshospitalet.

Nye diagnostiske metoder i organtransplantation

Chairmen: Finn Cilius og Jørn Carlsen

10.30 - 11.15 Genekspression som diagnostisk værktøj

Finn Cilius, Rigshospitalet, Denmark

11.15 - 12.00 Hvordan aflæses microarrays?

Peter Hagedorn, Risø National Laboratory, Biosynthesis Department, Denmark

12.00 - 13.00 Frokost

Protocol biopsies in solid organ transplantation – Joint meeting between Danish Society of Nephrology and Danish Transplantation Society

Chairmen: Claus Bistrup (DNS), Martin Iversen (DTS) og Søren Schwartz Sørensen (DTS)

13.00 - 13.10 What can be seen from a biopsy of the transplanted lung

Claus B Andersen, Rigshospitalet, Denmark

13.10 - 13.40 Clinical experience with protocol biopsies from the lung

Martin Iversen, Rigshospitalet, Denmark

13.40 - 13.50 What can be seen from a biopsy of the transplanted heart

Claus B Andersen, Rigshospitalet, Denmark

13.50 - 14.20 Protocol biopsies from the transplanted heart – is it worth the effort?

Finn Gustafsson, Rigshospitalet, Denmark

14.20 - 14.50 Coffee

14.50 - 15.00 What can be seen from a biopsy of the transplanted kidney

Niels Marcussen, Odense, Denmark

15.00 – 15.55 Protocol biopsies in the renal transplanted patient

Daniel Seron, Barcelona, Spain

Foredragskonkurrence

Chairmen: Andre Wettergren og Bente Jespersen

16.00-16.10

Enkeltcenter opgørelse af nyretransplanterede patienters nyrefunktion og immunosuppressive behandling. Anne Mette Frederiksen, Jesper Melchior Hansen, Peter Marckmann, Nefrologisk afdeling, Herlev Hospital

16.10-16.20

Inhibition of mineralocorticoid receptors with eplerenone alleviates short-term cyclosporine A nephrotoxicity in the rat. Finn Thomsen Nielsen^{1,2}, Peter Bie², Niels Marcussen³, Boye L. Jensen² 1.

Dept. of Nephrology, Odense University Hospital 2. Inst. Medical Biology, dept. of Physiology and Pharmacology, University of Southern Denmark 3. Dept. of Pathology, Odense University Hospital

16.20-16.30

Rapid decline in renal function during the first week following lung transplantation. Mads Hornum MD1, Martin Iversen MD DMSc2, Ida Steffensen MD PhD2, Jørn Carlsen, MD DMSc2, Peter Hovind MD DMSc3, Bo Feldt-Rasmussen MD DMSc1. 1Department of Nephrology, 2Department of Medicine B, Division of Lung Transplantation, 3Department of Nuclear Medicine, Rigshospitalet, University of Copenhagen, Denmark

16.30-16.40

Screening of potential donors who have volunteered to enter a single center living kidney donor programme in a 5 year period from 2002 to 2006 at Rigshospitalet, Copenhagen. J Juul Larsen, S Schwartz Sørensen, B Feldt-Rasmussen. Dept. of Nephrology, Rigshospitalet, Copenhagen.

16.40-16.50

Microdialysis: early detection of renal ischemia with possible implications on posttransplant surveillance – an experimental study. Anna Krarup Keller1,2, Troels Munch Jorgensen2, L. Henning Olsen2, Lars B. Stolle3 1) Institute of Clinical Medicine, 2) Department of Urology, 3) Department of Plastic Surgery. Aarhus University Hospital, Denmark.

16.50-17.00

Interleukin-2 receptor antagonists used as immunosuppressive induction therapy after heart transplantation. A meta-analysis. Møller CH1, Gustafsson F2, Steinbrüchel DA1. Department of Cardio-thoracic surgery1 and department of Cardiology2, Rigshospitalet.

17.00-17.10

Commonly Used Reference Genes are Actively Regulated in In vitro Stimulated Lymphocytes. R. Røge*, J. Thorsen, C. Tørring*, A. Øzbay*, B. K. Møller & J. CarstensResearch Laboratory C, Department of Nephrology; and Department of Clinical Immunology, Skejby Hospital.

17.10-17.20

Survival of transplanted diabetic patients with end-stage renal disease: trends over time and effect of renal transplantation. Vibeke Rømming Sørensen 1, Elisabeth R Mathiesen 2, James Heaf3 and Bo Feldt-Rasmussen 1. 1Department of Nephrology, Copenhagen University Hospital, Denmark, 2 Department of Endocrinology, Copenhagen University Hospital, Denmark, 3 Department of Nephrology, Herlev University Hospital.

17.20-17.30 Votering og præmieoverrækkelse

Generalforsamling
